

My dream job: Klodjana Gjata

Hello, my name is Klodjanna. I am a 16 years old Albanian student. I live in a big city (Athens) and I like travelling extensively. In my free time I like voluntiring and I am currently studying at a vocational high school so I can become a nurse or graduate as an aesthetisian.

My dream job has nothing to do with what I am studying right now. I do not like doing the same work for a long period of time, I like doing more creative things.

What I really want to do is to become a bussines woman, owning many stores and restaurants. I will use their earnings to set up a non govermental organisation (NGO) for either homeless people or refugees in Greece and in Albania, so that these people have the support that they are not usually given.
